

THUGS ENTER HOME, BEAT TWO WOMEN

Young Matrons Are Brutally Attacked By Intruders, Who Escape After Breaking Arms of Their Victims

Mrs. Pauline Stilt Knocked Unconscious, Picked Up and Thrown Bodily Over Stairs From Second Floor

Brutally beaten and then, when knocked unconscious, picked up bodily one at a time and thrown over a stairway from a second-story floor to the hardwood floor below, Mrs. Pauline Stilt, 512 Washington street, and Mrs. Pauline Hardwich of Los Angeles, sisters, are in a local hospital today, painfully recovering from the attack of two unidentified men who invaded their home early today.

Both of Mrs. Hardwich's arms were shattered. Mrs. Stilt had one arm broken. According to the story related to inspectors by police after the women had regained consciousness at the receiving hospital, where they were rushed, one of the strangers, a man of swarthy complexion, rang their door bell early today when Mrs. Stilt responded, demanding he be rented a room.

PURSUED UPSTAIRS BY INTRUDER

"That is impossible," Mrs. Stilt replied. "We have no rooms vacant, and besides, it is too late to rent one if we had."

"That's an old stall," said the fellow, pushing past Mrs. Stilt into the house.

Frightened, Mrs. Stilt fled up the stairs. The man gave pursuit. The face of Mrs. Stilt was struck in the face a terrible blow that knocked her down. She lost consciousness. She knew no more until the ambulance arrived and picked her up off the floor below.

Seeing her sister struck, Mrs. Hardwich ran to her assistance. But before she could interfere, the man, who had been joined by a second intruder, had picked Mrs. Stilt up bodily and had hurled her over the railing headforemost.

PITCHED HEADFOREMOST OVER STAIR RAILING.

Mrs. Hardwich screamed and was immediately struck in the face. Then she was pitched over the railing headforemost. The man escaped.

Mrs. Hardwich was not rendered senseless. She called the police. Hospital attendants reported that the women had sustained, besides their broken arms, severe injuries in the way of cuts and bruises and possibly internal injuries.

They were removed from the receiving hospital to a local institution. Inspectors assigned to the case have a description of the women's assailants. One is said to be of heavy build, powerful, with a mustache about 200 pounds. He wore a dark overcoat and a cap, smooth shaven, and was about 35 years old.

The other was described as a medium sized man of dark complexion.

Third of L. A. Auto Racers Dies Injuries Are Fatal to O'Donnell Chevrolet, Jolles Also Victims

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25.—Eddie O'Donnell, the racing driver, who was terribly injured yesterday at the Los Angeles speedway, when Gaston Chevrolet, famous driver, was killed instantly, and L. A. Jolles, a mechanic, was fatally hurt in a collision, died at 7:30 o'clock this morning at the California hospital here.

O'Donnell suffered a compound fracture of the skull, a broken arm and internal injuries. Despite these, he rallied at times and at one time some hope was held for his recovery.

THREE MEN CROWDED AS MISHAP HAPPENS

It was but a slight deviation that brought the speeding cars together before the horrified eyes of 75,000 spectators. Chevrolet was on his 14th lap and attempted to pass Joe Thomas, who was slightly ahead. O'Donnell was pursuing Chevrolet. As the three cars thundered past the pits and climbed the last bank, Chevrolet picked up speed, making a further effort to pass Thomas, below him. At the same time O'Donnell began to pass Chevrolet.

Just as these cars were side by side, Chevrolet's automobile appeared to swerve a few inches and the crash came. Thomas was unhurt, but O'Donnell's car was catapulted in a semi-circle ahead of Chevrolet, whose car hit it a second time head-on in the middle. Jolles, the mechanic, was thrown clear of the speedway fence and dived thirty feet to the ground. He died on the way to the hospital. When Chevrolet's car was lifted he was found to be dead. John Bresnahan, mechanic for Chevrolet, was knocked unconscious, but came through with only a few scratches.

If Chevrolet had finished the race he would have been the 1920 American champion because of the number of points he had won during the season.

The body of Gaston Chevrolet, who died in the crash in which O'Donnell was injured, was taken to Indianapolis for burial. Mrs. Chevrolet, according to dispatches received here today by military authorities, the plotters are charged with poisoning food served to the two Mexican officials.

Obregon became violently ill after eating the poisoned food and for a while was in a dangerous condition. He had eaten game stuffed with spoiled oysters. The two captains, who were in charge of rations for the federal district of Mexico City, are accused of using the tainted oysters deliberately.

President Huerta was warned in time and did not partake of the food served to the plotters. Examination showed he had also had signs of ptomaine poisoning.

SHIP BRIBERY PROBE AGAIN HITS BOLLING

Cancelled Checks Which Sands Says He Used in Payment of Fee to Brother-in-Law of Wilson Called For

Witness Given One Week to Gather Personal Papers to Substantial Charges Before Congressional Board

By FLOYD MACGRIFF. International News Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The cancelled checks which Tucker K. Sands, cashier of the Commercial National Bank of Washington, D. C., declares he used in distributing a $25,000 fee from the Downey Shipbuilding corporation, were called for today by the congressional shipbuilding committee at Washington and that they would prove he had made payments to R. A. Wilson, brother-in-law of President Wilson; Lester Sisler, former secretary of the shipping board, and John Graner, agent of the Downey corporation.

Sands was given one week in which to gather his personal books and papers which will be introduced as substantiating evidence to Sands' story that this money was paid himself, Graner, Sisler and Bolling for services rendered in obtaining a large shipbuilding contract.

ACCEPTED NOTES WHEN DOWNY INSISTED.

Sands declared that he protested to William Downey, head of the shipbuilding firm, for giving him notes instead of cash.

"We expected to receive cash," said Sands. "But Downey insisted that his notes were good and I accepted them."

The witness testified that the sum advanced him by the Downey corporation was paid prior to granting a pretended credit of $100,000 to the Downey company by his bank and that the "fee" was not for "financial services," rendered by him. After reading from a statement prepared by Bolling, Chairman Walsh asked Sands if he had offered Bolling part of a fee in 1918, which presumably had come through the award of a contract to the Providence Engineering Corporation. Bolling refused to say.

Sands replied he had never received any such fee.

HE WROTE BOLLING.

Sands said that he wrote Mr. Bolling any sum of money which you stated was a part of the commission, gift or bonus, on account of assisting in getting contracts for the Providence Engineering Corporation."

"I do not have any recollection of any such transaction," said Sands. "Did you ever tell Mr. Bolling that if he did not help you get out of your difficulties with the department of justice you would make it hot for him?"

"I wrote him a letter saying it must be difficult for both of us if certain matters came out," said the witness.

Walker of New York, who was made executor of the estate, testified today as a witness to the will.

The will directed that in the event of a contest all of the estate be turned over to the University of California, and some controversy arose as to whether this would be interpreted all of the estate left in the case concerning the entire Searles fortune. In any event the University of California, which has been in the past the beneficiary of Searles' will, received nothing from the matter now at hand.

Sinn Fein Chiefs Are Arrested in Dublin and Many Others Will Flee

Griffith Active Spokesman For Irish Freedom

In the absence of America of Eamon DeValera, "president of the Irish republic," Arthur Griffith, arrested in Dublin, has been probably the most active spokesman in Ireland for the cause of Irish freedom. Last night in an interview he charged the policy of reprisals in Ireland was determined upon by England more than a year ago and inaugurated last March with the assassination of Lord Mayor MacCurrian of Cork.

Arthur Griffith came into prominence in 1917, when he presided at the opening of the Sinn Fein conference in Dublin. In a by-election in June, 1918, he was elected to the House of Commons for East Cavan. Like the other Sinn Fein members, however, he refrained from taking his seat. Last year he was elected one of the vice-presidents of the Sinn Fein organization.

John McNeill is professor of law in the National University of Ireland. In May, 1916, he was found guilty by a court-martial of complicity in the Easter rebellion of that year, and was sentenced to life imprisonment, but was released during 1917. In the general election of 1918 he was chosen to parliament as a Sinn Feiner, but did not take his seat.

Oil Millionaire Dies of Wound, Woman Sought

Death Comes to Oklahoma Man, Following Mysterious Shooting on Sunday.

ARDMORE, Okla., Nov. 25.—Jack L. Hamon, millionaire oil man and Republican national committee man, died at Hardy sanitarium shortly before 6 o'clock this morning. Hamon had been nursing a gunshot wound since last Sunday.

Hamon walked to the sanitarium here on Sunday and said he accidentally shot himself while cleaning a gun in preparation for a hunting trip. His story was accepted without question until Monday when a warrant was issued for the arrest of a woman who had acted as his secretary and bookkeeper for several years. She was charged with shooting Hamon and the national committee man and woman were also accused in a warrant of a statutory offense.

The woman, whose name is Clara Smith Hamon, has not been located. She obtained the name of Hamon through marriage to a distant relative of the oil king, according to reports here. It is said that she had never lived with her husband.

Hamon's fortune is estimated at $1,000,000.

MILLION MADE IN RAILROADS

The career of Hamon is a story of oil and of railroads, for one of his hobbies was building railroads. His first job was as a clerk in the office of a railroad. When the Klondike Comanche country was opened to settlement Hamon went with the first rush of new settlers to Lawton.

His first big ventures were the building of two railroads, one from Lawton to Ardmore, the other from Wichita Falls, Tex., to Oklahoma City. After failing in his first venture to get his paper roads bonded he concluded to start the job himself.

Backed by John Ringling of New York and other financiers, he built a line of railroads from Ardmore to Lawton, Okla. Later he became owner of the Hamon-Kell railroad in Texas. Hamon made his first fortune in oil when he discovered a large oil field near Ardmore and was able to secure a franchise of 15,000 acres in three years.

WAS MENTIONED AS PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE.

Hamon worked his political way to the limit and after a bitter fight was named the state's national committee. He was one of the original boosters of Warren G. Harding for the presidential nomination and worked for the Chinese's success long before the Chicago convention. During the convention deadlock Hamilton was prominently mentioned for the nomination.

Mrs. Clara Smith Hamon, who disappeared immediately after the shooting was a clerk in a store at Lawton, Okla. She was only 17—that was about eight years ago—according to Hamon's friends. Many stories have been circulated in Ardmore since Hamon's death, but no reliable information has been obtained.

Chevrolet Had Premonition Race Would Be His Last

By Jim Houlihan.

Special to The TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26.—Gaston Chevrolet's failure to follow his own hunch cost him his life, that of Lyall Jolls, O'Donnell's mechanic, and Eddie O'Donnell's serious injury to John Breenahan, Chevrolet's mechanic. In an accident which sent a cold chill through 70,000 racing enthusiasts and which came so unexpectedly that scarcely more than a hundred people observed the actual cause of the fatality.

A premonition came to the daring driver more than two weeks ago that misfortune would come to him in this contest and a few days ago he confessed to close friends that he would not start in the Thanksgiving day classic. These associates ridiculed the thought to such extent that Chevrolet changed his mind and came to the course today.

was at Fresno on October 2. In a 200-mile race on the new Fresno board speedway for a $15,000 purse, O'Donnell finished second and Chevrolet finished fourth. Jimmy Murphy, winner of the race, averaged better than 97 miles an hour.

CHEVROLET BORN IN FRANCE IN 1892.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Gaston Chevrolet was born at Deaunt, France, October 26, 1892, and came to this country in 1901.

Chevrolet, who made his debut by winning the Indianapolis speedway races in 1918, was not connected with the Chevrolet Motor company, according to Louis Franch, his brother-in-law, of Brooklyn. The dead racer was associated with an automobile company in Detroit at the outbreak of the war, and after being drafted was assigned to duty there where he served until discharged. Gaston Chevrolet was married to Miss Marguerite Bueron of Brooklyn in 1916.

is marvellous. He was caught in the center of the crash and then hurled clear, to a point of safety. More remarkable, however, is the fact that the other drivers who had followed on the heels of Chevrolet and O'Donnell came through the wreckage and continued around the course until the race ended.

Chevrolet died just before he would have been crowned 1920 racing champion.

SARLES EASY WINNER. Coincident with Chevrolet's hunch that the grim reaper would get him today was the superstition of nearly every other driver in O'Donnell's presence on the course. Eddie was regarded as a lax driver and a feeling of uneasiness has overtaken pilots in each of O'Donnell's appearances during the present season.

Coming to the race just the contest from the very start developed into a battle of the Deussenbergs. The team work of the pilots behind these remarkable racing creatures, in efficiency equaled the coordinated action of Andy Smith's California football warriors. There was but little speculation but that Sarles, Murphy, Miller and O'Donnell would race under the very first and the one doubt prevailed was, which one of the four would lead the winner's parade.

Lab after lap was reeled off with Sarles, Murphy and O'Donnell among the first four. Sarles led throughout the race. Glancing over the valuations, the progress of the classic leads me to believe that the cards were stacked for a Sarles victory.

It was not given serious consideration by drivers of other than the Deussenbergs and the fact that he was in the lead throughout the 236 miles might have been staged to send the impression that he was "driving over his head." Final results proved a contrary plan had been attempted and closer reflection of the battle program the clever pilots waged is clearly indicative of fact that the "Deussen" wanted Sarles to romp home ahead of the field.

MILLER'S DEBUT Eddie Miller, also driving a Deussenberg and who finished second, has been a mechanic for the Deussenberg team. Today marked his advent as a "big time driver." It was an auspicious start for him. Eddie, however, in finishing third, staged a comeback. Throughout the present season he had scored but 110 points

Order in Which Drivers Finished in Speedway Race

Car No. 10—Roscoe Sarles (Deussenberg), 2 hours, 25 minutes, 20 seconds. Average 103.2.
Car No. 11—Eddie Miller (Deussenberg), 2 hours, 27 minutes, 14 seconds. Average 102.
Car No. 14—Eddie Hearn (Revere), 2 hours, 27 minutes, 27.53 seconds. Average 101.8.
Car No. 12—Jimmy Murphy (Deussenberg), 2 hours, 31 minutes, 11.45 seconds. Average 98.9.

and was out of the running. His record has failed that something all year which would permit Hearn to come anywhere near getting better than a fourth place position. He poured a new brand of hop into the motor today and he gave the Deussenberg a good start.

Along about the thirtieth lap he had moved up from the rear of the vanguard to third position and he held that place, always pressing Sarles for first laurels. On the fact that Sarles had made the grand in non-stop fashion cheated Hearn from either first or second money.

Tommy Milton, driving Cliff Durrant's Oakland designed Chevrolet Special, went out of the race in the 27th lap. Motor trouble put an end to his chances early in the fray.

RECORD EQUALLED The world's speedway record for 250 miles was equalled by Sarles, the average attained this afternoon being 103.2 miles per hour, a figure the same as Jimmy Murphy maintained in the opening of the Beverly track last February. When it is realized the present racing engines have a piston displacement of but 183 cubic inches, closely approximating that of a Ford, whereas Murphy hung up his high speed with a much larger motor. Today's record speaks volumes for the rapid development of the new type smaller power plant.

Of interest to the motor trade is the fact that Goodyear cord tire equipment was fitted to the first and second cars in the race, neither of which made a change.

The presence on the track of such old timers as Fred Wagner, who has been starting automobile races since the inception of the Vanderbilt classic on Long Island sound, the reappearance of the Master Driver Barney Oldfield in the role of pace-maker with his Marmon speedster, of Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, now a citizen of Oakland, playing the part of official referee and the attendance of many other stars of earlier racing days lent additional color to the affair.

Oakland had a big delegation of motor racing fans here included among whom were Earnest Fetter, A. L. (Globe Trotter) Warenington, Ralph Friedl, Carl Christensen and Bill Frawley.

Four Known Dead, 20 Hurt in Wreck

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

TORONTO, Nov. 26.—At least four persons, possibly seven, are dead and 20 others injured in a crash of the wreck of the Grand Trunk night express, No. 16, bound from Montreal for this city, when it was derailed near York, a few miles from Toronto. Two bodies have been extricated and two others are sighted. Bodies removed are those of Nathaniel Brown, a Pullman porter, and an unidentified man of about 50. Among the injured taken to a hospital is William T. Gregg of Milwaukee.

(One body known to be still pinned under the wreckage is that of a woman. Seven of the express train's cars were completely hurled off the track. Three were day coaches, three Pullman sleeping cars and one a baggage car.)

One version of the cause of the wreck is that a freight engine on an adjoining track sideswiped the passenger coaches when the express train passed at a terrific speed.

PANAMA CITIZENS PROTEST SEIZURE OF LANDS BY U. S.

By DAVID M. CHURCH. International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PANAMA, Nov. 26.—The citizens of Colon have addressed an open letter to President-elect Harding, protesting against the American administration of the canal zone and the alleged appropriations of Panama territory and civil rights.

"Little by little the American canal zone officials destroy our sovereignty, disenfranchising our rights," the letter declared. The Colon protesters expressed the fear that Panama might become like Haiti.

Senator Harding took no official cognizance of the letter but made his position clear in a speech when he said:

"There is going to be such an understanding between President Porras and myself that there will never be any thought of friction between Panama and the United States."

BURGLAR FIRES ON GARAGE MAN, RUNS WITH LOOT

SUNNYVALE, Nov. 26.—Burgle fired by a burglar who was surprised while at work on a cash register in the Raine garage on Murphy avenue and California street today within a few inches of the head of Herbert Raine, the proprietor, according to a report of the sheriff's office made today to Constable McGinnis.

Raine, who slept in the second story of the garage, was aroused about 2 o'clock this morning by the sound of someone tampering with the cash register. He armed himself with a pistol and started down the stairs. Half way down the flight he was blinded by the rays of a flashlight thrown directly into his eyes and ordered to go back to his room.

Before he could comply with the order, he states, two shots were fired, both striking a timber within a few inches of his head. The burglar then escaped in an automobile which had been left standing in Frances street, directly in the rear of the garage. The robber obtained about $25 which had been left in the cash register. The empty safe found on the floor showed that he had fired an automatic pistol at Raine.

Fire Razes San Jose Prune Warehouse

SAN JOSE, Nov. 26.—A hundred tons of prunes, several tons of hay and a warehouse on the Antonio C. ranch on the White road were destroyed by fire last night in the absence of the owner. Spontaneous combustion, it is believed, was the cause of the fire. The blaze was discovered by two young men, alighting from a street car a quarter of a mile away, but by the time they had reached the scene and aroused the neighbors the storehouse was aflame from one end to the other. Neighbors assisted in saving other ranch buildings and the house.

Federal Agents Prepared To Aid Morse in Probe Of Police Booze Scandal

With no results announced so far, a Commissioner F. P. Morse's investigation of the alleged booze ring in the Oakland police department, John Considine, supervising federal prohibition agent for the Pacific, today expressed surprise that his office had not been called upon to lead assistance to the inquiry. Federal officers, Morse says, have been active with him all along.

The assistance of Considine that he would give his support to any investigation, once he is requested, follows the usual procedure in such cases.

E. J. Doyle and J. M. P. Chambers, president of the civil service board and opens the way to Morse to have the matter brought before the board, the grand jury, or into a federal investigation.

The thought has occurred to me," said Considine today, "that if the situation really was serious and warranted further investigation, that certainly some official source in Oakland as obviously an official source makes the charges would communicate with this office requesting our assistance in the investigation."

AID NOT YET ASKED
Up to now this office has received no communication of any sort from any official of the Oakland administration complaining of any alleged conditions there.

My office is so swamped with the duties of enforcing the prohibition law that I doubt very much if I can or will make any investigation unless the matter is called to the attention of this office by some official source in Oakland."

E. C. Yellowley, prohibition enforcement director, has no jurisdiction in the situation as he is concerned only with the supervision of permits and the manner in which licensed wholesale liquor dealers conduct their business.

The forty-eight hours set by Commissioner Morse as the time limit for results will be up this evening, and at that time the final tally of men suspected will be made. Intimations from Morse's office today, however, would postpone the "show-down" hour until Monday.

HASNT COMPARED NOTES
That Commissioner Morse believes some one else may be looking into the situation was revealed by him today when he said:

I expect that something interesting will be forthcoming. Some one else is interested in the matter, and I have not had time to compare notes."

The commissioner did not explain.

Expect Wilson To Refuse Task Of Mediation

(Press)—The attitude among delegates of the Assembly of the League of Nations toward the proposal of the League to President Wilson to act as mediator in the Armenian situation appears to be one of hope without expectation that the United States will release Europe and the League of Nations the embarking question behind the admitted necessity of doing something for Armenia there is a conflict of European interests involved. Great Britain, it is understood, would look with great disfavor on intervention by any power having rival interests in Armenia. Action by the United States in Armenia, it is held, would involve no such complications.

In default of action by President Wilson, general opinion here is that France is the country most likely to offer favorable reply to the mediation appeal made by the Council of the League yesterday to the various powers at the same time the message to President Wilson was sent. Acceptance by France, however, it is said, would be on condition of full support by the other powers.

ASSEMBLY TO MEET TUESDAY
The activities of the assembly have been transferred for the time being from the Hall of the Reformation, where the full sessions of the body have been held, to the headquarters of the secretariat. Here the committees and sub-committees were holding sessions throughout the day.

They will continue their labors until Tuesday, next, when the assembly will reconvene. Hear the first reports of the committees and take up the resolution of George N. School of Great Britain asking the council to explain why it did not intervene to prevent the clash between the Poles and Russian Bolsheviks.

Committee No. 8 of the assembly has finally settled upon the principle of its report on disarmament, the French viewpoint prevailing. The recommendation will be that disarmament be imposed only with regard to the security of different states. When a situation is drawing on this report the committee is facing up the question of disarmament as a condition of the league against offering nations.

COUNCIL OVERHAULS BRITISH OBJECTION
The council of the league overhauled the British objection to the provision of which countries not having territories from the league for the administration of the council proposed to be administered under mandate of the league as to have a majority of the permanent members in a majority. The council continued the discussion at the British motion providing for a committee of five to be appointed to study the question of the matter in such a way as to avoid a vote on the subject.

BY UNITED PRESS
LEAST WINDY TRIBUNE
GENEVA, Nov. 26.—The first of a series of resolutions of the League of Nations assembly, today, was passed, providing for a committee of five to be appointed to study the question of the matter in such a way as to avoid a vote on the subject.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—President Wilson has received from the assembly of the League of Nations, today, a report on the Armenian situation. Mr. Wilson already has consented to fix the boundary lines of Armenia, but there was no information at the White House as to his plans on the subject of mediation.

of my doing or knowledge, but I had presumed that they had."

New powers given to the Oakland police by the recently passed cabaret ordinance are to be used in the fight against the alleged booze ring within the department and to clean up certain resorts concerning which there have been many complaints.

At the same time that the police have started a concerted move against the "soft drink" places where hard liquors are sold to the initiated and where entertainment features are provided, there will be inaugurated a campaign against the holiday-season crooks who annually take a large toll from Oakland.

Acting with the theory that these criminals are largely men from other places, Captain James Drew has planned to meet them this year with unusual preparations. A corps of fifty plain-clothes men is to patrol the residence sections and a list of every thing that is stolen will be sent to the other departments of the country. With these means, says Drew, most of the stolen property will be recovered and a number of arrests are certain to be made.

MAY CLOSE RESORT
The cabaret ordinance, the police believe, will enable them to close any resort within 300 feet of a school, library or church. This will mean that the Henry Hastings resort, next to the Prescott school annex, may be closed, and will supply a weapon to be used by the department against other places which are said to have figured in the recent booze ring scandal.

Examination of the ordinance has revealed the fact that it makes no discriminations and that a cabaret, under its provisions, is anything from a soft-drink parlor, where a phonograph plays out music, to the ballroom of a hotel where the orchestra plays for dancing. Under its provisions all entertainments of this nature must be stopped at 1 o'clock in the morning unless a special permit is granted by the chief of police.

With the permit the closing hour must be no later than 2 o'clock. New Year celebrations in Oakland, then, will cease at 2 o'clock if the law is to be observed.

House detectives of the Oakland department stores have been informed that a gang of shoplifters have left the East for Oakland and San Francisco, and have made arrangements for a vigilant reception.

MORE WORK FOR MORE PAY NEW DANIELS CREED

MARE ISLAND, Nov. 26.—Mare Island officers have been advised that the Navy Josephus Daniels is figuring on more work and pay for the men at the station, and with a decreased force. "Fewer employees with greater efficiency" is the motto, and the head of the navy states further in letters received that under the new system he expects that mechanics who heretofore would not accept government jobs will help to weed out the comparatively slow or inefficient workers. Captain Charles Conrad, Captain Ammen Farenholt, Commander H. G. Bowen, Commander C. J. McVernon and Lieutenant-Commander W. E. Baughman are among the Mare Island officers who have received commendatory letters from the Navy Department for excellent work rendered during the great conflict. Orders have been issued at the navy yard to cut up the cylinders of the German U-boat now in machine shop at the station. The yard drafts-men will prepare drawings of the cylinders as well as other parts of the engine this winter and it is stated that the yard machinists will turn out at least ten of the U-boat type of engines in 1921 for use in the divers on this seaboard.

OAKLAND LISTED IN $78,207,665 HARBOR PROJECT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Harbor and waterways improvement and maintenance will require appropriation of $78,207,665 for the fiscal year of 1921, according to estimates of Major General Lansing H. Beach, chief of army engineers, in his annual report made public today. He recommended a 25 per cent increase in the total of $66,716,500 supplemented by sundry civil items aggregating $11,491,165 for continuing contracts and other items in order money bills. The recommendations will be introduced in the next session of congress at its session Dec. 6.

500,000 BONDS VOTED

RICHMOND, Nov. 26.—When Richmond voted $400,000 harbor improvement bonds recently, it was with the understanding that the government would match the amount with a federal appropriation. Assurance that enough money to provide for all work during the ensuing year would be carried in the next rivers and harbors appropriation bill have been given through Congressman Charles F. Curry.

The money is to be used in the dredging of the inner harbor to permit the docking of the largest vessels entering San Francisco bay, and for the construction of a training wall and other requisites. As soon as the federal appropriation has been passed, Richmond harbor bonds will be sold in sufficient amount to care for the first unit of the work, and additional bonds will be sold as the work progresses.

Five Thanksgiving Imbibers Face Judge

Five men charged with being intoxicated, the result of Thanksgiving cheer, faced Police Judge Mortimer Smith this morning. All pleaded guilty to the charges and were fined $5.00 each, or a magisterial order of "six dollars or three days."

Then came the time honored question of "where did you get your liquor?" As usual all but one disclaimed purchasing the liquor in Oakland. The only dissenter came near causing a riot.

"Where did you say you bought your liquor?" questioned Judge Smith, not crediting his ears with the first reply of the dissenter.

"I bought it from the chief of police," almost shouted the defendant. "Outside!" said the judge, and the iron door slammed inward.

Woman's Marriage to Check Passer Voided

Mrs. John D. Farley, who was married to Patrick H. Farley shortly before his arrest on a charge of passing a number of checks on Oakland merchants, was granted an annulment of her marriage to him by Superior Judge T. W. Harris today on the ground of fraud in that he concealed from her that he had been convicted of a felony.

Farley is now serving a term in the penitentiary for his latest offense. Mrs. Farley, at the time of his arrest, declared she would stand by him and visited him in the county jail frequently. Subsequently she said she did not know when she married him that he already had been convicted of a felony before his arrest on the Oakland charge.

Alleged Burglars Are Held to Answer

George Long, 24, recently arrested by Inspectors Harry Orbell and John Mulhern, who say he was attempting to dispose of stolen clothing, was committed by Judge George E. Samuels who fixed out at $10,000.

George Green, 27, said by the police to be a drug addict and a burglar, was committed by Judge Mortimer Smith. He is charged with stealing a suit case and numerous other small articles from the room of A. E. Stuckel, in an Eighth street lodging house. Bail in his case was fixed at $2000.

How Does He Do It? He's Going To Tell Readers of The Tribune

Every week somewhere in the United States for several years thousands of people have been seeing propokeys written by H. H. Van Loan, author of "The Great Redeemer," "The Virgin of Stamboul" and countless other notable successes.

Van Loan is perhaps the most prolific and most dramatic writer for the screen today. He is going to tell readers of THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE just how he does it. The style of his manuscripts, the way he tackles a plot, and the sources of his ideas.

Read it in next Sunday's TRIBUNE. Then if you have a real idea sit down and write it as Van Loan tells you and maybe before long you'll be turning down $25,000 for a scenario like Van Loan is doing.

MURDER STORY TOLD BY GIRL

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—Circumstances leading up to the slaying of Henry E. Pierce, wealthy manufacturer, were related in the city hall detention quarters today by Marie Phillips, 15, former chorus girl, who was arrested in Washington, Va., with Peter D. Treadway, whom she referred to as "hubby."

"Pierce was killed by two men whose names my hubby (Treadway) told me were Al Smith and Jack," she said. "We didn't know Jack's other name."

"We reached our home at 11:45 o'clock Saturday night and in came Smith and Jack, drunk and boisterous. We decided to go out with them rather than make a fuss in the house. We first saw Pierce, half drunk, standing near his automobile. Pierce asked my hubby if he wanted a drink. My hubby didn't drink and said no. But the other two fellows, Smith and Jack, said they would have a drink."

"Then the other two fellows (Smith and Jack) came in staggering drunk and told us to throw up our hands. Pierce was too drunk to obey and Smith hit him on the head with a blackjack."

Students At Fremont School Celebrate

The girls at our classes in Fremont high school gave a program Wednesday at which Miss Margaret Long, president of the student body at Mills College, was the speaker and two members from the Treble Clef Society of the University of California gave musical numbers. "The Problems of the Modern Girl," the low seniors gave "The Evolution of a Proposal," the low juniors presented "The Nightmare of a Small Boy" after a Thanksgiving Dinner.

The program was followed by a rush in which the juniors and freshmen beat the senior and sophomore classes.

EMERYVILLE MAN DECLARED UNFIT FOR CITIZENSHIP

Scoring Pasquall Della Santina, hotel keeper of 1340 Park avenue, Emeryville, for his violations of the federal liquor laws and city traffic ordinances, for cruelty to his wife and for his method of living, Superior Judge James C. Quinn today declared Santina to be "unfit for American citizenship" and denied him that privilege.

Santina is the man who was knocked back across the Emeryville line into Oakland a few days ago by Patrolman T. F. Munhollen, after a long chase for speeding.

Citizenship was denied after U. S. Naturalization Examiner E. N. Linton produced records showing that Santina was recently fined $300 as a bootlegger, that he was arrested for wife beating, that he was divorced from his wife for cruelty, and that he scorned the laws of the country.

The last and most spectacular instance of law violation in Santina's career was his attempted escape under a rain of revolver bullets, from Munhollen, who pursued him after he had raced down Broadway at a high rate of speed.

Santina crossed the boundary line between Oakland and Emeryville at Fifty-sixth street, stopped his car and defied Munhollen. Munhollen knocked Santina back across the Oakland line and arrested him. The applicant is known as Peter Santina in Emeryville.

Among those admitted to citizenship today are: Jean Nicol Sinn, Harry Gustaf W. Bengtson and John Lake.

If you see it in The TRIBUNE tell them so.

Rancher Electrocuted As He Touches Fence

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 26.—Charles Hauke, a rancher living near Folsom, was electrocuted yesterday afternoon when his hand came in contact with a barbed wire fence carrying a 11,000-volt current of electricity. Investigation revealed that a high tension line had fallen across the fence two miles from the spot where the accident occurred. Hauke was preparing to open a gate when he touched the wire. Several cattle which came into touch with the fence were badly burned.

Parties Given For Vocational Students

Real parties for more than 600 boys and girls have made up a portion of the part-time education at Vocational High school during the past week. When it was discovered that many of the children enrolled in the part-time classes had never attended a social function, a series of parties to include everyone once was planned by the faculty.

The students, themselves, who are employed in the various department stores and industrial plants in Oakland, and are required by law to attend school four hours a week, provided the entertainment. Much talent was discovered, and the programs did not lack variety. An orchestra of Hawaiian instruments furnished music for programs and dancing.

One of the most popular performers was young George Austin, who is a ventriloquist and juggler of ability. George earns his living as a professional entertainer, and is also part-time pupil, working for his grammar school diploma.

COUNTY EXPECTED TO GET INCREASE IN LEGISLATURE

Alameda county, with the second largest population gain in the state, is expected to benefit in the reapportionment of senators and assemblymen that is to be an important task at the opening of the state legislature in January. The gain in this county of almost an even hundred thousand is eclipsed only by that in Los Angeles county and is several thousand larger than the San Francisco increase.

The constitution sets the number in the senate at 40 and in the assembly at 80, and it is, therefore, the duty of the legislature to apportion the seats among the counties. Those sections which increased in population at the average rate for the whole state will continue with their present delegation, those which lagged behind will lose representatives and those which showed an unusual gain will be given additional assemblymen and senators.

LOSSES AND GAINS

Two senatorial districts, comprising nine counties, and four assembly districts, comprising twelve counties, show an actual loss in population since 1910. All of these are in the northern part of the state, the senatorial districts 2 and 3, including Lassen, Modoc, Shasta, Siskiyou, El Dorado, Nevada, Placer, Plumas and Sierra counties; and the assembly districts 3, 9, 16 and 47, including the counties of Shasta, Trinity, Placer, Nevada, El Dorado, Amador, Calaveras, Alpine, Inyo, Mono, Mariposa and Tuolumne.

The greatest gain among the senatorial districts is credited to No. 39, including Imperial, Orange and Riverside counties, which increased

BLUE BIRD BUREAU OF THE TRIBUNE

"Blue Bird: I am sending this to the Blue Bird, to see if it can help me get some work. Last January I nearly lost my eyes, and have not been able to do any work since, on that account. My eyes are improving slowly, and I am able to see how to read and write, but not enough to see how to get around the streets in safety. I could give satisfaction in an office, answering telephones, etc. I am good at figures and can use the typewriter, but am not an expert on same. I would not expect a large salary in my condition.

"I am 44 years old, married, but no children, and I can give the very best of references. I am not asking charity, but asking your help to get an interview with some one in need of help in this line.

"Thanking you in advance for your consideration and help in this matter, I am—

This letter arrived in the morning mail and was neatly typed and the spelling was correct. It is a straight-from-the-shoulder appeal for work, with no thought of charity. It may be that some one has a position this man might fill, and if so, the Blue Bird will give his name and address.

And to get back to Santa Claus, Christmas, and everything—this letter is for some Goodfellow to answer.

"Dear Blue Bird:

"I am just writing you a few lines to ask you if you will please send me some Christmas presents. I am only a little girl 12 years old, my mother works hard every day to earn a good living for us, but all the money she earns it goes for the rent and food, and my mother tells us that we will have no Christmas. My mother goes around for days just sometimes she gets them and some time she don't get any. I have four brothers and myself makes five children in the family. My mother is divorced from my father and that is why she has to go out to work."

In addition to Christmas there has been a request for men's clothing. Two have appealed to Blue Bird. They say there is no chance of their saving enough to buy more clothes this winter.

Bride of 48 Hours Seeks Her Freedom
Mrs. Leta Poissant Marks, runaway Sacramento girl, has declared that she will petition for annulment of her marriage with Joseph Marks, a bride of 48 hours. Mrs. Marks discovered that something more than an ability to dance "divinely" was needed if her matrimonial bark was to come safely into port. Marks admits that he is sailing shortly for the Hawaiian Islands. Mrs. Marks has become an instructor in a local dancing academy.

Leta Poissant disappeared from her home in Sacramento last month. Her parents asked the police of the bay cities to make search for her. With her young bridegroom she marched into police headquarters on November 8, announcing that her husband's dancing had won her heart. The couple were married by Police Judge Mortimer Smith after an acquaintance of a few days.

DEADLOCK NOT FEARED
Los Angeles county, which now has eight senators and fifteen assemblymen, climbed from 504,131 to 536,368 in 1920; Alameda county from 246,121 to 344,177, and San Francisco from 416,912 to 506,676.

There appears to be no possibility of a deadlock preventing the legislature from making a reapportionment, as the state constitution, declaring that the census taken every ten years shall be the basis thereof, adds: "... and the legislature shall, at its first session after such census, adjust such districts and reapportion the representation so as to preserve them as nearly equal in population as may be."

COUNTY DIVISION

Two other noteworthy statements in this section read:

"In the formation of such districts no county, or city and county, shall be divided, unless it contains sufficient population within itself to form two or more districts, nor shall a part of any county, or of any city and county, be united with any other county, or city and county, in forming any district.

"But in making such adjustment no persons who are not eligible to become citizens of the United States, under the naturalization laws, shall be counted as forming a part of the population of any district."

The constitution further provides that all districts shall be composed of "contiguous territory."

MY HEART and MY HUSBAND
by ADELE GARRISON

Their train was an early one, so I had Katie get them a special breakfast, thus avoiding any further meeting between them and Jack and Katherine. Jack had behaved wonderfully at last, but, thought there was no use tempting Fate when matters could be so easily arranged.
"Good-by," the big doctor boomed, as he wrung my hand at parting. "You're just about the finest little doctor girl I ever had a better time in my life."
His wife said nothing, but the grip of her arms as they went around me and the kiss she gave me told me that my august sister-in-law could not have been so kind to me if I had not cleared up the problem which had given her so much anguish and speculation, and that I had made a friend worth having.
DICKY'S COMMENT
I confess that I dreaded meeting Katherine that morning. The evening before, after Jack's explosion chance for me to see Katherine alone. Dr. Braithwaite and Dicky had seized the conversational ball and had kept it airily through dinner and the evening following. It took the keenest attention of every one to follow them, a state of affairs which I suspected both men meant to bring about. Without dreaming of that which lay beneath the surface, they sensed a strained and dynamic situation, and exerted all their diplomatic powers, no mean matters.
"Didn't your husband cover himself with glory tonight?" Dicky had demanded when, after ushering our guests to their rooms, my husband and I strolled across the lawn to the room Mrs. Durkee had put at our disposal while our own home was so crowded with guests.
"Indeed you did, and I thank you," I had responded demurely.
MADGE'S RESOLUTION
"Say, weren't you absorbed with grief tonight because you hadn't copped dear Jack long ago when he was squiffy about you?" This was Dicky's next remark, so loyal in its whimsicality that I overlooked the coarseness of the reference. "There's a delicate consideration laid for you.
Didn't he stage a nice jealous performance there with old Edwin? I never did anything as bad as that, now did I?"
I wondered if his conscience had been prodded by the sight of Jack's ridiculous exhibition, and knew that I must answer his query with the utmost care.
"Of course not, goose!" I said sentimentally, squeezing his arm, and hastened to change the subject with a comment upon the frailty of Katherine's appearance.
"She'll look worse than that by the time she gets through humoring that gink," Dicky returned, and I saw that the old animosity against Jack was peeping through the layer of liking which he had carefully built up for my brother-in-law after the signal service Jack had done
him. "Take it from me, old dear, Katherine's the kind of girl who breaks under heartache. And the queer thing about it is that Jack's simply mad about her. But he'll kill her with that icy-I-am-supreme-let-no-one-dispute-me sort of manner. Somebody ought to kick some sense into him. I would if I knew him well enough."
I did not reply for I surmised that Dicky meant me by the vague
"somebody" he had mentioned, and I certainly did not see my way clear to "kicking sense into Jack." But I resolved to watch matters carefully during the few days they were with us, and if the opportunity offered to do my best to serve Katherine.
My opportunity, however, would,
of course, be predicated upon Kath-erine's attitude toward me. I had proud forgiveness in her eyes at the end of Harriet Braithwaite's explanation the evening before, but no one knew better than I how different a thing might seem in the exaltation of an emotional moment, as weighed against the cold viewpoint of solitude and introspection. Therefore I waited my first sight of Katherine with trepidation.
But I need not have feared. She met me at breakfast with the same sweet friendly light in her eyes, and at the first opportunity drew me aside.
"Dear girl," she said, "please don't let yesterday trouble you any more. I'll admit I felt very resentful toward you for a little while, but there isn't a shred of it left. I realize just why you did it, and it is all right. And—do—think perhaps Mrs. Braithwaite was right. Jack seems—so—different—since—much —kinder."
She turned away hurriedly, and I knew that she was angry at herself for the implication she had let slip that her husband was not always kind. And the resolve I had made to talk to Jack was strengthened by the sight of her dismay.
It was not until the last day of the visit Jack and Katherine were making us that I found or rather made the opportunity to talk to Jack concerning his attitude toward his wife. They were with us over a week, and during this time I watched by brother-in-law carefully, and gathered a very good idea of the thing which I was persuaded was sapping Katherine's happiness.
It was not anything deliberate. I acquitted Jack of that early in the week. It was simply a habit of speech and action which had insensibly grown upon him until I knew that he himself had no realization of the suffering he was caus-

Letters of Terrie & Joe.

DEAR JOE:
Well, Joe, I see the Carpenter-Dumpey fight is going to take place in Havana. When I told Mrs. Fink she says, "What do you mean?" she says, "Havana, Georgia?" Can you imagine that, Joe, for lack of geography! I can't.
The iceman, who seems to know more about the world than you'd think an iceman would, says the reason they're going all the way to Havana to fight it out is because of the influence of the moving picture people.
When Edison, or whoever it was, first invented moving pictures I suppose he little thought they would have any effect like this on the world's history. Well, as Mrs. Fink says, we never know what we're up against till we've gone past it.
Do you think prize fighting is brutal, Joe? Of course I realize it's rough, but lots of things—went downtown to get some reduced ribbon the other day, leaving the baby with Mrs. Ricketts in spite of all her objections to the contrary, and believe me, Joe, in his own suffering, no less real to him because utterly unfounded, the habit had so attached to his sittic tendril to his nature that when its original cause, jealousy of the physician, had been removed by Harriet Braithwaite's interview with him, he had been unable to make other reparation than his apology to Dr. Braithwaite. To Katherine he simply had been a "little kinder," and I was sure that blinded to the suffering he had caused her he had offered her no heart-cleansing plea for forgiveness, such as was due the royal heart of her.

It was a trying week for all of us, those days of their visit. Jack was the soul of punctilious courtesy toward us, and in all the outward forms he was as courteous toward Katherine as toward Mother Graham and me.

AUTO WRECKED BY SACRAMENTO VALLEY TRAIN

C. H. Wilson, 436 Sixty-second street, his wife and three-year-old daughter, escaped with only minor hurts when their automobile was struck and demolished by a north-bound San Francisco-Sacramento electric train at Forest street and Shafter avenue at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Wilson and her daughter were thrown through a windshield. Wilson clung to the wheel but received a gash over one eye. Guests attending a dinner party at the home of Frank Carpenter, 5601 Shafter avenue, heard the crash and the screams of the child and ran to give first aid. The three were taken to their home and attended by a family physician.

Charles Bradshaw Jr., 117 Ramona avenue, who was hurt in a Thanksgiving day accident at Yosemite and Fairmont avenues in Piedmont, was recovering today at Providence hospital. His injuries consisted chiefly of cuts and bruises on the head. Alvin Moran, who was with Bradshaw on a motorcycle, received a gash on the head but is at his home at 826 Thirteenth street recovering. Bradshaw is the son of a Piedmont policeman.

Early reports of the accident made to the police are declared in error. In that they charged that occupants of an automobile into which Bradshaw's automobile dashed, left the scene.

The automobile which was owned by Mrs. Albert Revert, 5349 Lawton avenue, was being used by Arthur Revert, George Wellman and two other Technical high school boys to collect Thanksgiving donations for the poor. When the motorcycle came down a grade suddenly both machines swerved to prevent a crash but the motorcycle hit the front wheel of the Revert machine and was wrecked. Revert and Wellman called a passing machine and took Bradshaw to the hospital where they remained for some time. The Revert car had to be towed in.

CARCOG OVER GRADE
Driving too close to the edge of a narrow roadway leading to the Joaquin Miller place, Dr. Mary Power of 238 Telegraph avenue, steered her car over the edge of the grade yesterday and received minor injuries. A small ledge beside the road prevented a longer drop for the automobile, which was considerably damaged.

Red Coup for Control of Germany Due This Winter, Declare Radical Leaders

HALLE, Saxony, Nov. 25.—German radical leaders declare that a program has been prepared with the aid of prominent Russian communists to start a revolution in Germany to set up a dictatorship of the proletariat. They say the attempt will be made as soon as the more extreme element of the Independent Socialist party has perfected an organization which in the opinion of the leaders would have some chance of success.

The radicals promise that the outbreak will come very soon, probably late in the winter or early next spring. They are of divided opinions as to whether they can overthrow the existing government, some of them saying the attempt probably will fail, others believing they will succeed, but all apparently are unanimous in the belief the effort should be made.

SOCIALISTS WILL HELP.

A number of leaders of the moderate wing of the Independent Socialists, who split with the left wing over the question of co-operating with the Third Internationale at Moscow to bring about the revolution, also express the opinion that there will be a serious attempt to oust the present government. One of these, a member of the Reichstag, in an address before a right wing conference, declared Bolshevism would sweep successfully over Germany and that it could not be prevented. After it had come and failed the Socialists would have their turn, he said.

The more moderate Socialists generally were of the opinion there could be no successful revolution at this time and declared the German people would never submit to a dictatorship of the proletariat, or co-operate with the Russian in a policy of terrorism and destruction to promote the cause of the proletariat. They appeared willing to seek the establishment of a comradeship government of the working classes, by violence if necessary, but were opposed to a dictatorship or a campaign of ruthlessness.

SOVIET PROPAGANDA.

Differences between the two wings of the old party were sharply accentuated by the visiting representative of the Soviet regime, who defended terrorism on the ground of its necessity at the beginning of a revolution and strongly supported the absolute dictatorship of the proletariat. Through these arguments the visiting socialist sat silent except when some statement greatly angered them; but the radicals exhibited the wildest enthusiasm. The galleries supported them with applause and "The Internationale" frequently was sung by a chorus of hundreds who stood in the aisles until the martial music ceased.

PARK LAND GRANT FIGHT RENEWED

Renewal of the fight to gain a grant of land from Independence Park to be used as an addition to the site for the East Oakland Community High school was announced by Harrison Campbell, superintendent of the construction department of the board of education.

When the board proposed to exchange two squares of property adjacent to the park for a playground in return for a strip of park ground at East Sixteenth street and Eighteenth avenue, H. L. Hagan, city attorney, advised the city council that it could not legally be done. The council accordingly voted in the negative.

But Campbell now announces that fighting a system that has hundreds of years of organization back of it and we cannot treat with it. It is life or death for the proletariat and the issue here has been drawn. Asked when he expected the revolution would begin he answered:

"I could give you dates and figures, but of course I won't. However, you may expect it any day. The plan of the radical leaders as near as can be learned is to form organizations in the several districts and have them prepared to co-operate when the call goes out. They say that if their first onslaught gives show of success 5,000,000 Germans will quickly rally to their support.

Independent Socialists opposed to the Moscow program are planning to correspond with radicals of all nations who are opposed to ruthlessness and agree upon a plan of action if possible.

The headquarters of both factions are in Berlin.

he has obtained a number of legal opinions all of which counter that of the city attorney. These, he says, hold the school board a quasi-municipal corporation to which the council might deed the property without charter violation.

With the park ground the school would have a 680-foot frontage and accommodate 1800 pupils. Technical high school has a 720-foot frontage and accommodates 2,250.

Campbell in his statement says in part: "East Oakland should and will have a high school to equal Oakland Technical High. We are going to happen at Independence Square."

spend $750,000 for a building which will be the finest high school structure in the United States. Oakland Tech stands out at the present time as one of the most beautiful buildings in the country, with its parking along the front. Nothing in Los Angeles or Pasadena can compare with it. All of these schools have elaborate parks and they are not destroyed by the children, as the council claims will happen at Independence Square."

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 25.—The House of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church in session here yesterday decided formally to withdraw from the interchurch movement, but to meet the obligation of $1,500,000 pledged when an auto truck struck an auto in which she was riding here last year ago.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1920.

TWO SPECIAL FIELDS.

In a speech a few days ago in New Orleans, President-elect Harding voiced his belief that the special field of American influence and trade lies in the Western Hemisphere rather than in Europe. He was speaking to the members of the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce and this perhaps led him to place particular emphasis on the necessity of establishing new trade routes with Latin-America.

Mr. Harding said he purposed to approach Mexico with an offer of binding friendship, to look upon Panama with the vision of a New York business man, and he called for an early realization of the dream of a new South in agriculture and industry and pledged his administration against sectionalism.

"Our trade routes by seas to the South ought to be as dependable as our rail routes at home," he said, "and there ought to be significant and reassuring continuity and concord among Americans, South, Central and North. Bind our friendship with the ties of trade and we make it indissoluble."

That there is a splendid potential future in the trade relations between the United States and the republics to the south is patent to every American citizen who can see beyond the front gate of his home. New trade routes, ample trade routes, are an urgent need and it is gratifying to know that considerable progress has been made, not only in this country, but in the south. The Panama Canal made accessible the west coast of South America to the Atlantic seaboard for commercial intercourse and the building of new ships gave the equipment to carry the trade between the northern and southern continents.

But without any suspicion that President-elect Harding is unmindful of the fact, attention is respectfully directed to the Pacific with the confidence that some modification of the conception that the special field of American influence and trade lies in the Western Hemisphere will follow. Mr. Harding is not ignorant or forgetful of American opportunity and duty in the Pacific basin; he merely omitted to speak of it, as an utopian phase, in addressing the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce.

There are two special fields for American commerce and influence, and without deprecating the importance of the Latin-American field, the supreme importance of the trade and political relations of the United States and East Asia is indisputable and cannot safely be ignored. There is a continent to the south that will in some future time, support a population of several hundred million producers and consumers; there is a greater continent to the west that already supports several hundred million consumers and producers.

Again, the peoples of South America and North America belong to the same civilization. In the Pacific is the frontier of this civilization and there it meets the frontier of other civilizations, a critical and delicate point in the progress of world trade and politics.

Sound statesmanship recognizes the situation in the Pacific. It foresees that the future destiny of the United States will be influenced to a large extent by the nation's policies and conduct in this area.

CONGRESS WILL BE LARGER.

Under the rule of reapportioning the membership of the House of Representatives after each census, the House soon will be increased to 483 members, a gain of forty-eight. In the reapportionment, California will be the biggest gainer, increasing her present membership of eleven by five, or by nearly fifty percent. Other States to gain will be Michigan, with four added to an existing representation of thirteen; Ohio, with four added to the present representation of twenty-two; Pennsylvania, with four added to a representation of thirty-six; Illinois, with three seats added to its present twenty-seven, and Texas, with three added to its present eighteen.

To apportion Representatives to the States according to the new population figures and to avoid the controversy sure to start if any State's representation should be reduced, a basis of representation according to population, in all probability, will be fixed that will be but slightly higher than the existing basis of representation. To give the States that have increased in population their due and to avoid taking from States which have remained stationary or lost in population it will be necessary to increase the membership of the House from the present number, 435, to 483.

Legislatures in several States having biennial sessions, as well as Legislatures meeting annually, convene in 1921, and as the State bodies district the commonwealths after Congress has allotted each State its representation in the national House, it is planned to pass a reapportionment bill early in the coming session. If the membership of the House is fixed at 483, an increase of forty-eight, there will be no need to reduce the number of Representatives from any State. A membership of 483 will mean a basic representation of one member of the House to a population of 218,979.

While an apportionment bill will be introduced during the closing session of the Sixty-sixth Congress, which opens December 6, the Congress to be affected will be the Sixty-eighth, to be elected in November, 1922. The Sixty-seventh Congress already has been chosen. Unless the size of Congress is to be increased several States will have to suffer a loss of representation in order to equalize representation on the basis of the present ratio of population, 242,267, to a House member. Those States would be Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Rhode Island and Vermont.

With these States naturally joining hands with those States that desire to increase their delegations in Congress in favor of a larger membership, it is reasonably certain that the Sixty-eighth Congress will consist of approximately 483 members, with California's delegation numbering sixteen.

THE LEAGUE'S FIRST ARMY.

The League of Nations, meeting as the Assembly at Geneva, has agreed upon the first employment of force of arms as an aid to the realization of its decisions. In this first case, the governments called up to contribute to the international force have indicated their readiness to comply, so that the judgment of the League does not become merely advice to the governments concerned, with a period of waiting to see whether that advice will be followed, but is substantially an order accepted with alacrity.

This international force will be composed of British, French, Belgian and Spanish troops. It will go to Lithuania to maintain order and supervise the plebiscite which the League Council has ordered to be held in Vilna and the surrounding territory to determine whether that district shall be assigned to Poland or Lithuania. Should, after the plebiscite is held, either Poland or Lithuania be dissatisfied with it and refuse to abide by it, it will devolve upon the League of Nations to enforce the decision.

This question was forced upon the League of Nations and it will be gratifying to the advocates of the League to observe that there has been no sidestepping the obligation to make a decision and enforce it. It will be recalled that after the evacuation of Vilna by the Bolsheviks last summer, General Zeligowski, a Polish general, occupied the city and refused to quit it when requested to do so by the Lithuanians. Thereupon the government of Lithuania addressed a note to the League of Nations and the Council of that body determined upon a plebiscite.

The decision and recommendation of the Council was referred to the Assembly when it met in Geneva and was approved. It appears from an official communique that the governments of Great Britain, France, Belgium and Spain were consulted in advance and all agreed to provide a contingent for the League of Nations military force to supervise the Vilna plebiscite.

This action would indicate that the League is capable of showing its "teeth," something which all advocates of an effective association of nations for the maintenance of peace agreed was necessary to success. It is an interesting precedent and one which will reassure small nations in controversy that they may not appeal for an arbitration of their disputes in vain.

Here is a war between Lithuania and Poland over territory. The people of the area in question will decide the issue under the direction of the international organization. And when that popular decision is recorded it will be an unwise government which ventures to disregard the popular referendum.

William Dean Howells, whose industrious literary career covered a span of fifty years, left an estate of $200,000. Considering the volume of the Howells' output, this is a very modest return and an additional proof of the high literary quality of his work.

NOTES and COMMENT

It should not be forgotten that it was just three hundred years ago Thursday that the Pilgrims landed. They could not have known at the time what a great country they had found. The fact was not fully realized till some time later. But it would be difficult to start an argument over the question now. A hundred million or so are satisfied, and those who do not fall in with the idea are not compelled to remain.

Trust Henry Ford for thrills. Recently he lowered the price of his well-known vehicle. More recently he said things about the Jews, and now it is announced that bonus checks in the aggregate of $7,000,000 are being written for his employees, to be distributed as holiday remembrances. We may joke about Mr. Ford as to some of his idiosyncrasies, but we have to hand it to him in the main.

"Harding's election heard in mid-ocean." It certainly was distinct enough to reverberate quite a distance. It was heard—and by some it was felt—all over the land to an extent that few presidential elections in the country's history have ever been, and it is not so much of a surprise that it should have been sensed in mid-ocean.

The rice growers are in a complex predicament. They have participated in a notable trial in which their right to take water out of the Sacramento river is in issue. The growers are greatly injured by the unusual rains, and now there is an account of an orchardist suing a rice farmer to recover damages for seepage. It is all about water, but in very diverse relations.

What bids fair to be one of the last of Secretary Daniels' squabbles is that with the Western Union Telegraph Company over connecting up a cable at Miami, Florida. The accounts do not give the inwardness of the trouble, but that an arm of the government should be employed in interfering with fixed bayonets such work is almost enough to cause wonder if this is still a constitutional government.

In the exuberant rejoicing over the rainfall the rainmaker seems to have been overlooked. He has been useful in the last four years—or at least, he has found his opportunity—and possibly it is not generous to forget him, now that "copious downpours" occur without his assistance.

There may be conditions in Macon, Georgia, that approach the miraculous, otherwise a good many would like to know how Mrs. Arthur of that city, as set forth, could give a dinner in which figure unlimited portions of baked goose with cranberry sauce and oyster dressing, stewed corn, celery rolls and coffee for ten cents, with an expectation of a large crowd.

A Washington despatch states that the prevailing national administration is to leave the Japanese question to settle. If that was the only problem it would leave it might be easier for those who have to grapple with the general mess than it promises to be.

We have got a long way from other times. For many years Missouri went as certainly Democratic as Mississippi. Harding's majority in that State has just been totaled, and found to be 152,363. Missouri going Republican by such a majority could not have been believed in those days when the solidarity of the South was primal.

Abnormal importations of sugar through the port of San Francisco were reported for the first nine months of 1920 as 195,567,041 pounds, of the value of $18,064,376. The importations were due to the high price that ruled as a result of the profiteering that shot prices to 39 cents a pound, and defeated in large and desired measure the untold deal.

The News was the first to announce in this community that there will be no more flu for thirty years. Now is the time to subscribe.—Red Bluff News.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

The first shipment of beans from this coast to Boston left Tuesday from the California Bean Growers' Association stocks in Santa Maria, the first movement of the 1919 crop of small whites. The shipment when loaded on the steamship at San Francisco consisted of 6000 sacks and had an approximate value of $20,000. The reason given for the shipment by boat is the 33-1-2 percent increase in rail freight rates across the continent.—Lompoc Review.

William Van Houke, an old property owner of a small farm in the lower part of the Castro valley, has come forth with all the necessary documents and an elaborate address preliminary to deeding his property back to the Indians. Van Houke wanted the occasion made one of public celebration in order to establish a worthy precedent. He said, he said his decision to return his lands to the aborigines is the result of the present der time occasioned by the last constitutional amendment.—San Leandro Reporter.

Complaint is being made that vandals are destroying the new road signs put up by the State Automobile Association. These signs are the joint work of the county and the automobile association. Every citizen of the county is interested in their protection. It is hardly likely that the wanton shooting up of the signs is the work of any local people, but rather of irresponsible auto tourists, who seem to take delight in destroying the property of other people.—Calaveras Prospect.

FACTORIES, SUPPLY AND DEMAND.

One of the most familiar axioms is the statement that a desire for or need of goods does not constitute a demand in an economic or business sense. There may be millions of men in Russia in need of clothing and desiring to secure clothing, but this does not become a demand for clothing until the Russians are able and willing to pay in money, goods or labor for the clothing they need.

The manufacturer measures the demand for cloth, although millions are in need of it.

Manufacturing plants are operated to supply some human need.

In rendering this service it is necessary for a plant to make a profit for its owners if it is to continue in operation for any considerable length of time. If all industry were operated by government, as advocated by Socialists, factories would be run without regard to profit, and great over-production of certain goods would almost certainly result.

The expectation of profit is the incentive that causes men to risk their capital in new enterprises, and in the long run the law of supply and demand causes prices to fall when the supply of any article exceeds the demand, and the decreasing profits discourage new capital from entering upon this branch of industry.

A shortage of any class of goods or commodities causes rising prices, with greater profits to capital, so that more capital is attracted to the industry, and thus tends to stabilize prices and industry.

Certain trouble makers appear to assume that factories are run primarily for the purpose of paying wages to the operatives, and that the wages should be paid and the factories kept running regardless of whether or not the continued operation will be profitable to the owners.

It is unfortunate that big factories as well as small establishments, are sometimes obliged to suspend their operations for lack of demand for their products, but it is hardly fair to assume that the manager of a great industrial plant closes the factory for the purpose of causing suffering among the operatives.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

About YOUR HEALTH

Some Things You Should Know About Your Eyes

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., F. A. C. S., Commissioner of Health, N. Y. City

Did you ever consider your eyes and their wonderful muscular adjustment? There they are, serving you each day, and yet you not only rarely give them a thought, but may deny them the care they need.

Let's consider your wonderful eyes. Let us take one and become acquainted with it. Each of your eyes is a globe about an inch in diameter, placed in the eye-socket, where it is firmly movable, like a ball-and-socket joint. Its movements are nicely and accurately regulated by six muscles, working separately or in teams.

The muscles originate at the bottom of the eye-socket, pass forward around the eye, and attach at different points to the eyeball itself. Then, inside the eyeball, is another set of muscles. One of these regulates the size of the pupil, thus determining the amount of light to be admitted to the eye, exactly as the diaphragm of a camera controls the light. Another wonderful muscle regulates the density of the lens of the eye, therefore its focusing power.

The eye then, in order that it may point at the object to be looked at and in order that the image may be fixed upon the retina, or seeing part of the eye, must use eight or nine muscles, and each muscle must respond with perfect accuracy to the demands made upon it. But this is only half the story. The other eye must do exactly the same thing. Both eyes must be directed to the one spot, and each must have its every muscle in precisely the right adjustment. Otherwise there is double or blurred vision, and trouble follows at once.

The oculist is always talking about "asthenopia." This means, literally, absence of optical strength, or a weak vision. To the oculist it conveys the idea of "painful sight."

The eyes may look normal, or there may be no sign of difficulty beyond a slight redness or itching; still they hurt when used, and may feel uncomfortable even when they are closed. Sometimes the pain is not in the eyes, but is over the eyes, in the forehead, or it may take the form of a headache or nervous disorder. Asthenopia may be indicated by discomfort in the back of the head, by twitching of the eyelids or sickness of the stomach. It will be seen that the symptoms of eye strain may be local, confined to the eyes, or may affect some rather remote part of the body.

"Painful sight" means the failure of perfect function. Usually the only means or relief lies in properly fitted glasses. It may not be necessary to wear glasses at the time. Probably their use for reading or seeing, or for other exacting close work will be all that is necessary, or their use may be confined to the theater or to automobile. But, bear in mind, painful sight shows abnormality of the eyes, and you cannot afford to disregard the warning. Disease follows neglect of the symptoms of asthenopia.

WOMAN FIGHTS DRY AGENTS WHO RAID HER HOME

Huge Still, Large Quantity of Jackass Brandy
Are Seized.

Determined to wipe out illicit distilling of spirits in Oakland, officers from Prohibition Director John Connelley's office last evening raided the residence of Mrs. Maria Rossi, 696 Forty-seventh street, seized a still capable of making gallons of spirits, daily, a quantity of wine and about 100 gallons of jackass brandy.

Knocking at the front door, about 7:30 o'clock, the officers were refused admittance. They then went over the back yard fence and breaking into the house found a small boy who had taken alarm at their prowling and attempting to dismantle the still. Mrs. Rossi, who is a muscular woman, treated the four officers roughly, declaring, and it was only after considerable of a tussle that they succeeded in subduing her.

WOMAN IS HELD
The woman is held pending filing of formal charges by the prohibition director.
Two men, who were of the neighborhood and who attempted to frustrate the officers in the pursuit of their duty, are to be arrested, according to Connelley, whose office is now preparing warrants for them. The director refuses to give the names of the men.

The raid is one of a series of the prohibition director has been conducting on the Alameda shore. The first resulted in the seizure of eight stills. The still seized at the home of Mrs. Rossi is said to be the largest yet put out of business in the raids.

THREE ARE RELEASED
Peter Canzani, his brother Masino Canzani, and Louis Vaccaro, three of the seven men taken in the raid conducted by prohibition enforcement officers at 5265 Bryant avenue, and at a ranch near Concord, appeared for arraignment before United States Commissioner Krull today.

Following the hearing the three were released. Their own recognizance, on sworn statements that they believed were permitted to manufacture wine for their own use. According to federal officers, however, the brothers were guilty of having sold wine grapes to Charles Mirazotti, Valt Pasquale, P. Riccardi and John Vaccaro, and to have rented the alleged equipment for manufacturing the contraband. More details of the case were expected at the time of the raid.

Student is Jailed As Automobile Thief

Accused of the theft of a large automobile from Wayne Corbin, 1412 Harrison street, Jack Dunn, 17-year-old son of a Berkeley family, was jailed in Oakland today. Dunn is a student in White Preparatory school, a private institution.
According to the evidence against young Dunn, he drove away with Corbin's machine and was later arrested at Los Angeles. He was trying to dispose of the car, it is said, at a low price. The car, which was insured for $10,000, was found in the car lot to have been taken from Dr. Daniel Crosby of Oakland. Dunn's bail has been set at $5000.

Police and Parents Spoil Plan to Win Fame and Fortune

ALAMEDA, Nov. 26.—Their dreams of fame and fortune to be won from the frontier sections of the world, dreams of red blooded adventure far from the family fireside, were rudely shattered yesterday for Earl Nichols, 17, and Edward Knight, 10 years of age.
The two youngsters, having off on their own account and got as far as Sacramento. There, unfeeling police, at the instigation of frantic Alameda parents, rudely smashed up the rosy dreams of the two youngsters. Earl's father brought the two from the capital city last night.
Needless to say, both were disgusted youngsters.
"A feller hasn't a chance at all, any more," is their plaint.

THIEF TAKES $226, LEAVES $217 IN BOX

Was it quick of conscience that moved the pass key man who robbed Manuel Periera's eight store property today at 445 Eleventh street to leave $217 from the money till and leave $226 more reposing there?

According to the complaint to the police the money box, a heavy sheet iron affair, had been forced open with a jimmy and out of the $442 found there only $226 was missing. Nothing else was taken.

Molester of Girls is Sent to Prison

Police Judge Mortimer Smith this morning sentenced August Kullmer, aged 60, a Piedmont gardener, to six months' imprisonment in the county jail and a fine of $500, the maximum penalty. Kullmer, who for years has been employed as a gardener for wealthy Piedmont families, was arrested yesterday by Inspector Peter Van Hise and Constable Keefe after complaints had been made to the police by enraged parents of several small girls.

BOARD HOLDS UP CHANGE IN CIVIL SERVICE SYSTEM

Final Action of New Traffic
Ordinance Also Delayed
By Officials.

As Commissioners Morse and Bacon said they were not ready to pass upon the proposed uniform merit-marking system for city employees the project was set over today until next Friday, when an ordinance adopting the system will be discussed and possibly passed.

The civil service employees have expressed their approval of the system provided the markings be so made that politics cannot affect the ratings of city employees and a high ratings to favorites or low ratings to political enemies. This phase will be discussed next Friday.

TRAFFIC LAW DELAYED

The proposed new traffic ordinance was also laid over a week, as suggestions and changes are being studied constantly.
A resolution regulating the cutting of curbs for private garage drivers was found today by the city attorney and passed its second reading. The appropriation of $1000 from the general fund for the recent Pilgrim centenary celebration was held to be illegal by the city auditor because the appropriation was not done by ordinance. An ordinance was drawn up and given first reading.

Drastic Round-up of Resort Loafers Is Ordered Attacks on Girls Rouses Police Heads to Action

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—Frank ("Bevo") Kruvosky, brother of Ed ("K. O.") Kruvosky, was arrested shortly after noon today in connection with the alleged assault on Miss Joan Stanley of Portland, Ore., and Miss Jessie Montgomery of Reno, Nev., for which K. O. Kruvosky and Ed McDonnell are already held.
Three charges, two of a statutory nature, and the third one of robbery, were placed against Frank Kruvosky. He, like Ed Kruvosky, is a well known heavyweight pugilist.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—Orders to all police captains in the city to round up every known hanger-on in soft drink establishments and pool rooms and the start of what is declared will be the most comprehensive "weeding out" process ever conducted by the police came today as a result of the attack yesterday on two girls by a gang of eight or nine men.

Already fifteen men are being held by the police for identification by Miss Jessie Montgomery of Reno and Miss Joan Stanley of Portland, victims of the assault, who are in serious condition in the San Francisco hospital.

"K. O." Kruvosky, heavyweight pugilist, and Allen McDonnell, said to be the owner of the resort at 1237 1/2 Howard street to which the girls were taken in an automobile from a downtown dance hall, are being held in prison in lieu of $10,000 bail. They have been identified by both girls as two of their assailants.

15 SUSPECTS IN JAIL
Later in the day, if the condition of the girls warrants, the 15 men now in custody on vagrancy charges and any others who might be brought in, will be taken before the young women for identification. "Bring in everybody," is the order to the captains of the Southern and Mission districts, "even if you have to pack your cells."

Kruvosky and McDonnell are in for a stiff questioning by Lieutenant of Police Charles Goff. Detective Alvin Jackson who others in an effort to find out the names of the men who escaped. Additional charges of robbery have been placed against each as the young women say that $7 was taken from them by the gang.

HIGH FEELING PREVAILS.
As a result of the high feeling against the men police said that an extra guard would be placed around them when they are brought into court to hear the formal charge. According to Policeman Katherine O'Connor, who made an independent investigation, the girls came here recently from Portland and were enjoying their first evening together since they had left home, when they fell in with the men at a dance hall and consented to an automobile ride home. When the driver picked up more men and did not go to the apartment of the girls but to the shack on Howard street, the girls became alarmed. According to the charges of the girls they were beaten, chased and robbed. Miss Montgomery, by jumping from an upper window, gave the alarm which brought the police. McDonnell and Kruvosky were found in the place where Miss Stanley was discovered, their clothes torn to shreds and unconscious on the floor.

The stories as related by the girls today is one of the most brutal and revolting in local criminal history. It has aroused the police department and district attorney's office to a determination to rid the city of the vicious element and to prosecute to the limit all of those who may be connected with it.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 26.—No arrests have as yet been made in connection with the mysterious fire which was started in a vacant house at 2215 San Jose avenue, Wednesday night. According to Chief of Police William Wadsworth, every available clue has been run down and all concerned have been thoroughly questioned but up to the present it has been impossible to fix the blame. Judge Will Be Guest at Woman's Club

When the Advertising Club announced a smoker for Thursday night at Hotel Oakland, in honor of Judge Richard H. Lee of New York, director for the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, and made it definitely known that feminine guests were to be carefully ruled out, the Business and Professional Woman's Club decided that it was time the members became hostesses at dinner. Judge Lee, who is himself as most happy to receive the honors which the club was eager to bestow upon him. That is why he will first be entertained by the women of Oakland and later by the men when he comes to the city on his next visit.

"Business Conditions of Today" are to be surveyed in the half hour talk which the advertising expert will deliver before the Business and Professional Woman's Club following the Thursday night dinner for which the advertisement of the Young Women's Christian Association has been received. Mrs. Elizabeth MacGibbon, president, will preside as chairman. Covers will be laid for 200 guests.

The International Relations committee of California branch, Association of Collegiate Alumnae, is asking the women of the world to exchange students from European universities and college women on the faculties of colleges and private schools in this vicinity to the number of some 125, to participate tomorrow in a program which is centered about "The Pacific." The November luncheon will be held at Tait's at the Beach. The speakers will be Dr. E. T. Adams, professor of Oriental languages and literature, University of California; Dr. Millicent Cosgrove, professor of Spanish and Italian literature, University of California; and Dr. J. H. Pelt, professor of Spanish and Italian literature, University of California.

Americanization in its most fascinating aspects is to be presented tonight in the Adelphi clubhouse when the current events section, which Mrs. A. J. Burger is curator, offers entertainment to several hundred guests. Mrs. Edwin Bond, chairman of the section, has arranged for a program of music, drama, and dance. The program will be presented by the Adelphi clubhouse and the Adelphi clubhouse.

The women of the Twentieth Century Club, Town and Country Club and the Hillside Club will be complimented tomorrow afternoon in Wheeler Hall when a reception of the Winter play "The Importance of Being Earnest" will be presented. Cards for the 8 o'clock performance were sent to each member of the three Berkeley organizations with the December calendar.

Town and Country Club will hang up its Christmas stocking. That holiday presents are wanted will be frankly declared at the Christmas party which the big comfortable fireplace will glow the symbol of gift-expecting. The clubhouse needs its festive furnishings to be completed. It is suggested that gifts of money—small or large, will be welcome. Hence the hanging up of the stocking.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole. Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister. Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, indigestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and stiffness of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia), and 600 jars; hospital size 40.

RL WHO STOLE $800 IS STILL HELD IN SOUTH

On the decision of probation officers will rest whether Norma Dunn, 20 years old, may start over again at her home at 2044 14th street, Oakland, or whether she must go back for more discipline at the state girls' school at Veneta, where the girl has been held for some time.

Norma Dunn, who was arrested on the charge of stealing $800 from the state girls' school at Veneta, was held in the county jail for some time. She was arrested on the charge of stealing $800 from the state girls' school at Veneta, where she was held for some time.

Slapping of Woman and Fall Down Steps Lead to Lawsuit

Did Mrs. Elizabeth Yale, aged 60, after slapping Mrs. Mary Games, considerably younger, knock her down the stairs, causing her to sprain her ankle, or did Mrs. Yale gently lead Mrs. Games down the stairs and to the front porch, where she slipped on the steps and herself inflicted the injury?

Judge Harry W. Pulosier is wrestling with this problem in connection with the suit of Mrs. Games against Mrs. Yale for $299.99.

DISPUTE ARISES.

Mrs. Games and Mrs. Aino Conway rented the downstairs portion of a house on Market street near Twenty-fourth street from Mrs. Yale. They decided to move. A dispute arose over the amount of change due the tenants from a merchandise order for $10 given to Mrs. Yale to pay for some sewing and incidentals.

The testimony showed that Mrs. Games said something about not getting a square deal, and Mrs. Yale replied with a remark reflecting on the friends of Mrs. Games and Mrs. Conway.

Parachute Jump Now Pull From Flying Plane's Wing

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 26.—A safe jump with a parachute from an airplane speeding at seventy to seventy-five miles an hour has been one of the problems of aviation which now bids fair to be solved.

No longer will the parachute jumper leap from the rear cockpit of the speeding plane and drop through space until his parachute finally opens. Army fliers at Kelly Field near this city, have just tried a new parachute jump and pronounce it far superior to jumping from the cockpit. They do not "jump," in fact but are literally blown or yanked off the top wing of the airplane by the opening parachute.

DENTON WITNESS SEEKING PARDON

Pardon within the next week or ten days is expected by J. Wilton Crowhurst, witness in the Denton murder case in Los Angeles which will come to trial in January. Crowhurst is now on parole from Folsom prison where he was sent when 19 years old because of a dealing in some goods which he says were dishonestly acquired by a younger brother. He came to Oakland from Los Angeles several days ago and has interested Sheriff Barnett and other Alameda county officials in his pardon petition. He will remain here and in San Francisco until the pardon appeal is acted on.

MICHAELS LEFT MILLION ESTATE

Appraisal of the estate of Henry Michaels, Oakland millionaire, who died June 15, in San Francisco, shows that it totals $1,099,790, the greater portion of which goes to the widow, Louisa, and son, Charles F. Michaels 1637 Central avenue, Alameda.

The largest single item consists of $408,185 worth of stock in the whole-sale drug firm of Langley & Michaels of San Francisco, totalling 3537 shares.

Berkeley Air Police Will Prevent Stunts

BERKELEY, Nov. 26.—The flight of Santa Claus over the city must not be interfered with according to orders received by R. C. (Chief) Durant, who was appointed a special captain of Berkeley police aerial squad today by the city council. The unusually large flock of sea gulls invading the town were recommended for his attention.

Durant holds himself and his company of trained flyers ready for aerial police and emergency duty. He will serve without pay. Berkeley was the first city to adopt an ordinance prohibiting "stunt" flying. There was no provision made for its enforcement. Durant volunteered his services. He will be under the orders of the police department.

Does the American Workman Want To Compete With the Oriental?

The average wage of the Oriental workman right here in Oakland is about $10.00 per month. How would the Housewives of Oakland like to have their husbands wages cut to that figure? By thoughtlessly patronizing the Oriental Merchant you are slowly but surely forcing the white workman to either accept low wages or get out of the Business.

College Girls Want Hubbies With Coin

LAWRENCE, Kan., Nov. 27.—men must be earning a comfortable income before they can marry Kansas University women if the answers to questionnaires sent to 500 co-eds can be depended on.

The average income demanded is $520 to $450 a month.

Some of the freshmen women demanded a year but the older ones were less exacting in their demands. The men also received a question asking their choice of qualities in a mate and one hundred answered emphasizing the importance of companionship in the wife.

Many men gave the ideal age for a woman at marriage at twenty and seemed to think the husband ought to be able to earn around $500 a month.

The men placed little emphasis on the cooking abilities of their prospective spouses.

Vandals Wreck Room in Oakland City Hall

Commissioner Soderberg this morning started an investigation into the destruction of a City Hall lavatory alongside police headquarters, ripped and smashed last night at about 9:15 an unpractically torn to pieces.

This morning sections of doors and pieces of marble were scattered all over the place. Door knobs and sundry equipment lay all over the floor.

There is no trace to the persons or persons who did it. A general mobilization of City Hall janitors was ordered and the place was cleaned up but no one knows how it happened. Testimony tended to show that while the janitors of the City Hall lavatories appear solid they can be wrecked with ice or hot iron. It is believed that the wreckage was done without tools.

City Wants S. P. To Pave First Street

The Southern Pacific railroad has practically monopolized First street without right to do so, according to a report which is being compiled by Superintendent of Streets George Mattis for the City Council.

Mattis several months ago was asked to find what right the Southern Pacific has to pre-empt the street, and asked to define the rights of the Southern Pacific in general to construct trackage without paying. Mattis report it is understood, will argue that the railroad assumed the obligation to pave, which it has not fulfilled.

Action toward the paving of First street is expected may follow the submission of Mattis' report.

OLYMPIC CLUB NOSED OUT BY FLEET

MISSIONITES HAND NEVADA UNIVERSITY SURPRISE DEFEAT

Clubmen Are Out-Guessed When Sailors Score on Unexpected Forward Pass

Strategy of Capt. Ingram Gains Lone Touchdown of Contest For the Fleet Eleven.

By DOUG MONTELL

The Pacific Fleet and the Olympic Club eleven battled neck and neck yesterday afternoon on California Field in the best game of football of the year on California Field, both teams playing for the breaks of luck and the Fleet eleven emerging on the long end of a 7-0 score at the end of the hard-fought contest. It was one of those fur-flying contests from start to finish, for the teams were evenly matched and battled back and forth in mid-field without either being able to gain an edge during the first half. Spectacular plays dotted the game throughout on the part of both teams and the huge crowd was treated to the hardest fought gridiron contest of the season. The victory of the Pacific Fleet team was a hard and well-earned one, which came as a result of the Olympic Club being out-guessed on one play in the third quarter. With the exception of this one tell-tale score there was nothing to choose between the two eleven.

After the first two quarters had resulted in a 0-0 deadlock the Fleet team came back in the second half with a rush. Both teams scrapped back and forth, exchanging punts for the first eight minutes of the third quarter with the Olympic Club gaining the offensive in the Navy's territory when McCollum of the Olympic Club blocked one of Roberts' punts and recovered the ball on the Fleet's 25-yard line. Here the club men were unable to make down and lost their only chance to win when Peterson missed a field goal from a difficult angle on the 20-yard line. The Navy immediately came to life and started an offensive from their 20-yard line that brought their lone score.

INGRAM'S STRATEGY IS DECIDING FACTOR

On straight line bucking the entire backfield of Benoit, Roberts, Hanafan and Ingram alternated to rush the ball 12 yards for four first downs through the Winged "O". The Fleet backs had found a hole and were making good use of it. Once within their own territory the Olympic line held and on their 35-yard line held for three downs. Here the strategy of Captain Ingram proved to be the turning point of the game for the Fleet. Roberts hauled a forward pass to Ingram for 38 yards to the lone touchdown of the day. Peterson kicked the goal and this ended the scoring festivities of the day.

ALL-AMERICAN BACKS ARE STARS OF THE GAME

The work of Roberts and Ingram, the two All-American backs of the Pacific Fleet eleven, was the outstanding feature of the day. Both showed finish in their work and bore the brunt of the offensive against the Olympic Club. Roberts did the punting for the Fleet and Dobson for the Olympic Club and there was little to choose between them. On one other occasion in the fourth quarter Roberts cut off a 20-yard pass to Ingram when the sailors were in danger of losing the ball on down in their opponent's territory. It was the ability of the Fleet to make good its forward passes in the pinch that brought about the downfall of the powerful Winged "O" team. The Olympic Club on numerous occasions resorted to the forward pass and Dobson to Charlton gained yards on short passes but never resulted in any considerable gain so as to endanger the Fleet goal line.

PRETIEST FOOTBALL GAME OF SEASON

Throughout it was the prettiest football battle of the year. Both teams played All-American football, and both teams were forced to punt throughout the game as a result of failure to gain yardage. The All-Star backfield of the Pacific Fleet hammered away at the Olympic Club line throughout the contest, but only on one or two occasions were

ESPEES DEFEAT PEET BROS. IN TENTH INNING

The Espes celebrated Thanksgiving Day by beating the Peet Bros. team in a 3-0-0 batting in ten innings at the Oakland Coast League park yesterday morning. It was the third time in four games that the railroad boys, who now have a clear claim on third place in the Class B Division of the Oakland Tribune Winter League.

The game was a corker from start to finish, the action being in the tenth inning when the Espes landed two of their ten hits off Bill Plummer, two star chucker of the Peet Bros. team.

George Schmitt was used in the outfield so he would be in reserve to pitch next Sunday. Kister, however, played a big part in the victory by landing two hits and scoring one of the runs. W. Schmitt was the real star of the game, having used a four-hit game against the Soap boys. Schmitt sent ten to the bench on strikes and Bill Plummer did likewise. W. Schmitt had the Pees under control all the time as the box score will show he handled twelve assists himself. The game was marked with fast fielding on both sides. The score:

Santa Clarans Finish Strong And Win Game

Forward Passes in Last Few Minutes Defeat Nevada Team.

The Santa Clara football experts predicted their game yesterday when they came with a rush in the last few minutes of their game with Nevada and yanked the contest out of the conflagration. With four minutes to go and the tally sheet 21 to 17 against them the Santa Clarans looked beaten—but they weren't. Three successful forward passes netted large gains for the Missionites and after the third one the ball was on the Nevada 10-yard line. Then Snowy Bakelgrabbed the pigskin and went round the end for the score and a victory for the Santa Clarans. Evans kicked the goal and then the game ended. It was a wonderful finish to a wonderful game.

Little Bradshaw of Nevada was the star of the game. Lummy pulled a lot of deep stuff that went completely over his opponent's heads. In fact, sometimes the trickiest were lost to his teammates. His running and general all-round work had the fans cheering throughout.

Ohio State Will Come West for Pasadena Game

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 26.—Ohio State University last night definitely accepted an invitation to play a football game at Pasadena, California.

PASADENA, Nov. 26.—An invitation to a western team to meet the Ohio State football eleven here, New Year's day probably will be extended after a meeting today of the football committee of the Tournament of Roses.

It was generally believed the committee planned to invite the University of California squad, although no member would commit himself. Discussing the victory here today of the University of Southern California over the University of Oregon and the possibility of a play-off between U. S. C. and the Berkeley team, Seward, a member of the committee, said "it was not the province of the Tournament of Roses Association to arrange a play-off between any two teams—that it was a matter for the institutions involved."

One of the annual football classics between the two service institutions tomorrow at the Polo grounds. The Annapolis players, headed by Coach Folwell, arrived here late last night. Head Coach Daly was to bring his army team today.

Hotels today already were taxed to capacity to house the advance guard. Annapolis players, Secretary of the Navy, and General Pershing stayed over after attending the aeroplane race at Minesota and Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, is expected today.

Business, Professional Men Start For Mexico

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25.—A special train of eleven cars, carrying 175 business and professional men of Los Angeles, today was rolling toward Mexico City via Juarez. They are to witness the inauguration of General Alvaro Obregon as president of Mexico on December 1. The party, under the auspices of the local chamber of commerce, left here last night. Closer relationship between California and Mexico is the aim of the party.

Physical Test For Workers is Urged

Physical examinations as a requirement in large industries and employment bureaus and the keeping of health files were urged this week by Dr. Frances Green of the University of California in an address at the Public Health Center before a class of social and public health workers. "The Relation of Sickness to Destitution" as a part of the general theme "Prevention of Poverty" was her subject. Dr. Green advocated a policy toward prevention of disease and advised that patients be made to regard it a duty to the community to take physical care of themselves and avoid sickness. She predicted that the illnesses incident to childhood will shortly be eliminated to such an extent that they will no longer be regarded as inevitable.

MINER WINS $300,000

JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 25.—John Tupela, Alaska prospector, whose suit for a share in one of the valuable properties of the Chicago Mining Company, among the richest in Alaska, has been pending in the courts, is to receive $300,000 for his claim, under an agreement reached yesterday.

Robbery of Bank is Confessed By Youth

SIOUX FALLS, Iowa, Nov. 25.—Fred Holton, 24, who with Roy Holman, was arrested following the theft of $1200 from the State Bank at Ottumwa, broke down and confessed to the robbery, according to Sheriff W. H. Jones today. Holton's address was given as Porterville, Cal. Holton implicated Holman as his accomplice in the hold up, and also told where the loot could be found. All but $75 of the money was discovered buried two feet under the ground in a chicken house at Holman's farm, the sheriff said.
